The Frailty Seminar Series

A group of health care professionals and researchers dedicated to frailty started the Frailty Seminar Series in 2021 with the purpose of exchanging and sharing evidence-based practices, and research advances about all aspects of frailty. The Frailty Seminar Series 2021-2022 presented a line-up of renowned speakers from around the world, sharing their expertise in the rapidly growing field of frailty.

Now under the aegis of the recently founded Global Frailty Network, the organizers of the Frailty Seminar Series embark into yet another stimulating new year of scholarship in frailty. In the new year we have assembled a roster of some of the most recognizable experts in the field of frailty from four continents.

The purpose of these seminars is to exchange and share evidence-based practices, and research advances about all aspects of frailty.

Please join us again for another exciting year of developments in the field of frailty.
